Re: Only 'The One Service' Specializes in Extending the Life of Your Office Carpets and Protecting Your Investment!

Dear Alex,

Protect Your Office Carpet from Accelerated Wear and Accumulative Damage

How much money do you have invested in your office carpets?

How many thousands of pounds are your customers and employees pounding their feet on all day long?

How much money would it cost your business if your office carpets became so worn and shabby that you were forced to replace them?

Everything requires regular maintenance to ensure a long life; conversely, whenever this essential maintenance is neglected accelerated wear will accumulate until the carpets are completely ruined.

Short-Term Saving Leads to Long-Term Disaster

In the short run, you may save money by neglecting your carpets, but it will end up costing your business tenfold in the long run.

How long would your automobile last if you never bothered to change the oil or perform other regular maintenance? It is the same for your office carpets.

The majority of carpet wear is not caused by people walking on it per se, but by dirt and debris trapped deep within the fibres; their sharp edges like tiny knives rubbing against the fibres. The inevitable result is wrecking the carpet beyond the possibility of repair. The only solution is prevention.

As the ancient proverb goes, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure!" Every penny invested in professional carpet cleaning is worth a pound in prevented carpet replacement costs.
